Obituary

Lois B. Price was born to the union of Elder Nathan Jesse Allen and Katie Allen on December 28, 1903 in Palestine, Arkansas. She was the second of seven children. Her family moved to Clarendon, Holly Grove and Galloway, Arkansas where she completed grammar school. After moving to North Little Rock, Arkansas, she attended Jones High School.

Lois B. Allen accepted the Lord Jesus Christ and was saved, sanctified, and baptized in Hills Lake by her father, Elder N.J. Allen and Daddy Robinson, and was filled with the precious Holy Ghost and that with fire in Galloway, Arkansas in 1916.

In 1922, Lois married Sylvester Paul Faison, and to that union five children were born.

After moving to Omaha in 1925, mother worked as a domestic, and worked for the Arthur Rogers family from 1931 to 1942. At that time, she attended Technical High School where she completed an eight week course in sheet metal welding, and was hired at the Glen L. Martin Bomber plant during World War II from 1942 to 1946. Mother would very proudly say, "We rolled a plane out the door every 90 minutes!" After the war, she returned to work as a domestic for several prominent families in the Omaha area.

Mother married the late Elder Frank G. Price, in Las Cruces, New Mexico in 1949.

Mother Lois B. Price, a servant of the Lord, left these indelible legacies:
— Oldest Missionary in the State of Nebraska
— the First District Missionary
— State Elect Lady
— First State Sunday School Field Representative
— State Chairlady of Y.P.W.W.
— Served as State Secretary Women's Department
— State President of the State Women Department Examination Board
— Appointed State Supervisor 1980 by Bishop Monte J. Bradford
— Attended first Spring Call Meeting
— Was in attendance when Mother Lizzie Robinson was given her charge by Bishop Charles H. Mason
— Was in attendance when Missionaries were first licensed
— Saved 74 years
— Never missed a Convocation or Worker's Meeting

Mother Lois B. Price leaves to mourn her loss: four children — James Lovell Faison, Omaha; Margaret Lovece King-Shearron; son-in-law Welton Shearron, Aurora, CO; John L. Faison and daughter-in-law Joanna Faison, Omaha; Dorothy Jean Faison-Bey, Cleveland, OH; God mother of Mother Dorothy Brown, Cheyenne, WY; Mother of the late Apollo Meredith Faison.

Sister of Paul B. Allen, Sr. and Jesse Nathan Allen, both of Omaha. Sister of the late Mattie Pearl Martin, Alfred Theodore Allen, James Bernice Allen.

16 grandchildren, 29 great grandchildren, and four great great grandchildren. A host of nieces, nephews, cousins, spiritual family and friends.
